Chapter 304: The Expansion of the Divine Armada

Sung Jin-Woo, as The Absolute One, understood the necessity of strength—not only his own but that of his followers and forces. His ever-expanding realm required an armada capable of enforcing his dominion and safeguarding the balance he had established. With this vision in mind, he initiated a massive upgrade to his Divine Armada, adding new elements and strengthening existing ones.

The Updated Divine Armada

1. 100,000 Divine Warships

Massive vessels that could carry over a million troops each and house 1,000 space-planes. These warships were equipped with world-shattering cannons powered by the energy of Sung Jin-Woo’s divine essence.

2. 500,000 Cruiser-Class Spaceships

Agile and versatile, these ships served as the backbone of the armada. Their adaptive energy shields allowed them to withstand powerful attacks, while their plasma weaponry ensured deadly precision in battle.

3. 400,000 Destroyer-Class Spaceships

Heavily armored and designed for pure destruction, these ships could obliterate entire fleets with their dark energy lances.

4. 20,000,000 Space-Frigates

Smaller, faster vessels that excelled in scouting, reconnaissance, and swarm tactics. Their shadow cloaking devices made them nearly invisible to enemy detection systems.

5. 100,000,000 Divine Armored Mechs

These towering mechanical warriors were the heart of Sung Jin-Woo's ground forces. Standing 50 meters tall, each mech was piloted by elite Shadow Lords or Heavenly Soldiers. The updated models were equipped with:

Dark energy blades that could cut through any material.

Particle beam cannons capable of leveling cities.

Regenerative armor that repaired itself in battle.

6. 5,000,000 Divine Fighter Jets

Sleek, high-speed aircraft designed for aerial combat and rapid assaults. Their adaptive targeting systems allowed them to hit even the fastest of enemies, and their shadow missiles could pierce through the toughest defenses.

7. 500,000 Transport and Supply Ships

Essential for maintaining the armada’s operations, these ships carried resources, weapons, and reinforcements to the front lines. Each transport was protected by defensive shielding and escorted by space-frigates.

New Additions to the Armada

1. Shadow Titans

Newly introduced 200,000 Shadow Titans were colossal, semi-autonomous war machines powered by Sung Jin-Woo’s divine energy. Standing over 500 meters tall, these titans could:

Unleash city-destroying shadow beams.

Deploy smaller shadow units during combat.

Act as mobile fortresses for entire battalions.

2. Eternal Carriers

10,000 Eternal Carriers were added to the fleet. These massive vessels could house smaller spaceships, troops, and even Shadow Titans. They served as mobile bases and repair stations during extended campaigns.

3. Void Sentinels

50,000 Void Sentinels were advanced stealth ships capable of infiltrating enemy territory undetected. Equipped with phase-shifting technology, they could pass through physical barriers and remain invisible to sensors.

4. Oblivion Cannons

A new class of planetary annihilation weapons, the Oblivion Cannons were installed on select Divine Warships. Powered by the energy of Sung Jin-Woo’s Divine Jewel, they could obliterate planets in a single strike.

Preparing for the Future

As the armada grew, so did its reputation. Across the multiverse, the Divine Armada became synonymous with invincibility. Its mere presence in a realm struck fear into the hearts of those who opposed Sung Jin-Woo and inspired unwavering loyalty among his followers.

This expansion was not just about war—it was about establishing a presence so powerful that no one would dare disrupt the harmony Sung Jin-Woo had painstakingly built. His armada was a symbol of his dominion, a testament to his strength, and a promise to all who stood by him: The Absolute One would always protect his own.

And as Sung Jin-Woo looked upon his updated forces from the throne of the Umbra Citadel, he knew one thing for certain:

The multiverse was his to safeguard, and nothing would stand in his way.
